Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) Policy

The National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) and the University Grants Commission (UGC) have entrusted the IQAC with the responsibility of enhancing the quality of colleges. The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of the college is primarily dedicated to maintaining and enhancing internal quality.

The main goal of the IQAC is to examine college processes to deliver quality to all stakeholders. Recognizing the importance of systematic internal quality assurance, the IQAC has worked over the years to streamline processes that support ongoing quality enhancement.

The IQAC has also recognized that quality improvement initiatives should be decentralized rather than centralized, with various activity heads appointed to lead their teams independently. The college IQAC's quality policy for all stakeholders is 'inclusion through involvement,' ensuring that all stakeholders, particularly staff and students, actively participate in all college activities during their tenure.
